

HDT ARCTIX® AHKIO KIT

Next Generation of Arctic Utility

The HDT ArctiX® Ahkio Kit is a complete solution, providing the warfighter with the necessary equipment to maneuver in an arctic environment and the capability to more easily manage rucksack loads, reduce shoulder-borne weight and increase warfighter safety. The foundation of the kit is the HDT ArctiX Ahkio Sled – a flexible, durable, wide-based sled designed for stability and increased cargo capacity. The sled features additional lead connections and load locking straps to ensure sled and load stability while traversing diverse and technical terrain. The kit includes HDT's industry-leading 10-man Arctic Shelter along with many other high-performance, lightweight components.
